In a high prevalence country such as China, tuberculosis (TB) remains a global health problem. In this study, we identified 1821 new cases of tuberculosis during 2009-2010. Atypical multiple mimickers of mycobacteria (AMM) were detected in 4.1% of TB cases by Ziehl-Neelsen (ZN) smear. In addition, cases with atypical pulmonary disease and extrapulmonary tuberculosis often show mixed mycobacterial species. Genomic sequencing and spoligotyping methods further confirmed that atypical mycobacteria co-occurred with typical mycobacteria in these cases. The application of molecular methods to improve the accuracy of diagnosis and shorten the diagnostic cycle is promising for TB control and prevention.Q: Inject a javascript variable into multiple templates I am building a web app using Backbone.js and Require.js. Backbone provides a templating system where I can provide a name attribute and a template. I need to create multiple variations of this template. Here is an example:
